

insideout

property smart

sell your house faster, easily and for much more money grown-up colour

how to make brights
sophisticated

kitchen trends
6 essential styles
with staying power

win
the ultimate
luxury
shower

+32

-PAGE
PROJECTS &
RENOVATIONS
MAGAZINE

wet & wild splashing ideas to transform
your garden

beat the heat

Cool pools, drought busters and waterside idylls

ARCHITECT: SHAHRIAR NASSER
Belsize Architects

Company

Belsize Architects
 (020 7482 4420,
 belsizearchitects.
 com)

Concept

emphasising the barn's scale

Cost: £120,000

'It's not often an indoor space has a length of 25 metres, which we have explored with a long pool and a smaller relaxation area. We have designed a bridge that hovers above the pool, allowing the water (and the swimmers) to move freely underneath.'

'The bridge would continue at the same height to become a sun deck outside. In good weather, the doors can be opened and the deck becomes a relaxation area, providing a connection between the inside pool and the outside garden.'

'We would also propose that a section of the roof be opened up. The timber structure remains intact, and the only change would be the roof finish. Having had a lot of experience converting listed buildings, this is something I feel we may be able to get planning permission for.'

